LETTERS PEGGY RECEIVES

Dear "Peggy." Some of the Honolulu girls studying at Smith College in Northampton, Mass., had an exciting experience just before Christmas, as the house in which they were living was threatened by an immense fire in a five-story block directly back of them.

Helen Jones, Florinda Low and Florence Ballou were awakened by the fire at about half past ten at night and were ordered by the fire chief to remove all their possessions at once from the house. Girls from nearby houses swarmed to their assistance and all their goods were dumped in the middle of the street whence another crowd of girls removed them to a place of safety in a neighboring house safe from danger from the fire.

It was not until half past five in the morning that their home was pronounced safe to enter once more, as luckily a strong wind was blowing so as to keep the flames away from the house. I am afraid they did not have very good recitations the next morning at college.

Yours, MISS BLANK.

Humphries-Brown Wedding.

Beneath a bower of ferns and flowers, facing the rippling waters of the blue Pacific, Miss Gertrude King Brown and Mr. Wilfred E. Humphries were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown, at Waikiki. The large lanai where the ceremony was held presented a beautiful scene with its myriad of hanging baskets filled with fluffy ferns, baskets of delicate pink chrysanthemums and baby pink roses suspended from the ceiling, and the banks of fresh mountain ferns. In the reception hall there were quantities of snowy calla lilies against a bank of green ferns.

The bride was simply gowned in a costume of white French embroidery and real lace. The skirt was designed with the soft flounces of embroidery and lace, fashion's latest decree. She carried a bridal bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and roses. The only attendant was Miss Gertrude Garreda, who carried a basket of roses and scattered the petals along the path of the bride and groom.

The wedding ceremony was read by Dr. Doremus Scudder who returned from the mainland yesterday morning.

Mrs. Humphries is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown and is well known in the islands. She is an accomplished musician and has appeared at numerous recitals and other musical affairs.

Mr. Humphries is assistant head worker at Palama Settlement and it is at the settlement that he and his bride will make their home. He is from Manchester, Eng., and has spent many years in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphries are spending their honeymoon at Kahala.

Dance at Waimea, Kauai.

Many were the eyes that turned skyward last Thursday morning hoping that the day might be a fair one for the debut of Miss Esther Hofgaard, the younger daughter of Judge and Mrs. Hofgaard, at a dance given by them that evening at Pa-o-Wini. About 90 invitations had been issued.

SOCIETY

said for the affair and over 70 responded readily, for the Hofgaards' hospitality is famed far and wide on even that hospitable island.

Banks of ferns intermingled with the scarlet poinsettias and Hawaiian lilies were in evidence everywhere about the house and formed a background for the receiving line, where Mrs. Hofgaard, together with Miss Hofgaard and Mrs. G. C. Hofgaard, greeted the guests.

A lanai had been erected on the grounds at the east of the house and here the large leaves of the tropical palm fringed the sides interwoven with myriads of colored lanterns. Upon the gay scene of beautiful women and handsome men, becomingly attired, dancing to the strains of Waimea's splendid sextet, the moon shone serenely and made the picture a never-to-be-forgotten one.

During the evening Mrs. Alex. Brodie played a selection from Grieg, which was enthusiastically received. After this followed a recitation by a gifted elocutionist of Lihue, Miss C. Ominy.

At 11 o'clock the gentlemen were asked to choose their supper partners and then all adjourned to the dining room, where a buffet supper was served and a bountifully decked table greeted them.

Dancing was again resumed after supper and at the wee sma' hours of morning the guests wended their way homeward, voting, one and all, that the evening had been a brilliant success.

School Life Revives.

At 9 o'clock Monday morning the school bells pealed out and after spending from two to three weeks at play the students in the local schools took up their books again for 10 weeks of solid study. It is during the mid-winter term that much of the hard work in the classes takes place and during that period little time is given to the frivolous side of things.

Monday's Masana Kea brought a number of the students of Punahou Academy from the other islands, among them being Miss Olive Lindsay, Miss Margaret Austin, Miss Edith Gilib and Miss Dora Lydgate.

While there will be a great deal of heavy class work done at the academy the student members of the Punahou Dramatic Club are already planning to present "The Piper" by Elizabeth Preston Peabody early in February. The production is to be staged under the direction of Mrs. Francis Day and in all probability will be one of the best efforts of the students. There will be two performances for the benefit of the dramatic club and a special matinee, the proceeds of which are to be given to the Children's Theater.

The cast which has already been selected is as follows:

The Piper.....David Withington
Michael, the sword eater.....Bernard Damon
Jacobus, the burgomaster.....John Gifford
The Miser.....Gordon Wakefield
Kurt, the syndic.....Joe Farrington
Ansel, the priest.....Parker Woods
Hans, the butcher.....Clarence Mills

All-States Second Annual Dinner.

The all-states dinner to be given in the parish house of Central Union church on Thursday, the 14th of this month, promises to be a brilliant affair. This is the second annual dinner given under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association giving a splendid opportunity for people in Hawaii to become acquainted with other members of their own state. Last year about fifty states and countries including Canada, England, Ireland, Scotland, Germany and France and others were represented and this year there will, in all probability, be more.

There will be a hostess at each table who will provide stunts and amusements during the dinner. Mrs. Howard Hitchcock will preside at the Hawaiian table, which will be the largest and central table. Mrs. Walter F. Frear, president of the association, will be with the Honoluluans. Mrs. C. B. Gage, chairman of the social committee of the Y. W. C. A., has charge of the hostesses, and Miss Chandler and Mrs. W. F. Frear are registering the guests and arranging for a most delightful program after dinner.

After all the festivities, the annual meeting of the association will be held.

Honoluluans Entertained.

Mr. Lot Sebastian Kaulukou, formerly of Honolulu and now known to fame as Carlos Sebastian, and his wife, Dorothy Bentley, who participated in his fame as a ballroom dancer, were guests of Capt. Victor Houston, U. S. N., and Mrs. Houston aboard the cruiser St. Louis in San Francisco bay last Thursday. Several other Honoluluans were guests at the same time. Mr. and Mrs. Kaulukou have been generously entertained by Honolulu and California friends during their Orpheum engagement, and now express the hope that in May they may be able to visit Honolulu and incidentally give exhibitions. The "Sebastian waltz" and the "Sebastian tango" are now considered the most advanced and most complete of the new and audacious ballroom dances.

Plans have been completed and work has been commenced for the rearranging of the Outrigger canoe club grounds. The bath houses and servants' quarters are to be moved to the adjoining lot, which was leased last year from the Bishop estate, and the dancing pavilion will be built across the picturesque lagoon. The grounds will be enlarged and driveway, set in and flowers planted. It is the largest membership of any club on the islands and the most popular. Every week there are a number of social affairs, both formal and informal though it is a most unique place for an informal entertainment of any kind.

Mrs. Harold Dillingham and her little son, who arrived last week from Honolulu, are with Mr. Dillingham at the Hotel Bellevue. They will spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Wood at their home in Burlingame. Mrs. Hyde-Smith, the mother of Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Dillingham, will complete the family circle—San Francisco Examiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Athol McBean are expected home today from Honolulu, where they have been spending the past month.—San Francisco Examiner.

ACCEPTANCES RECEIVED FROM GUESTS INVITED TO Y. W. C. A. STATES DINNER

Acceptances are coming in today to invitations to the second annual states dinner of the local Young Women's Christian Association which will be held in the parish house of Central Union church on the evening of January 14, at 6:30. Mrs. C. B. Gage, former economic secretary of the Y. W. C. A., is chairman of the committee in charge of the dinner, and the hostesses will be Mrs. L. Tenney Peck and Mrs. Katherine Yates.

The dinner will be carried out along the lines of the one held last year, the association members from various states having separate tables, each table being presided over by a hostess. Aside from the association members, invitations have been extended to Queen Liliuokalani, the husbands of the members of the board of managers, members of the clergy and press, and the auditor and attorney for the association and Governor L. E. Pinkham.

After the dinner the association will hold its 14th annual meeting.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.
As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is excessive acid in the stomach, aggravated by food fermentation. Hyperacidity irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent. of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisulphate of magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisulphate of magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.
